

Clint Honeycutt, Sr., Safety Connection, Inc.

Clint Honeycutt, Sr. has been in the Fall Protection and Rescue industry since 1988. In 1998, he started his own company, Safety Connection, Inc. Clint and his 8 highly skilled team members train clients in Fall Protection & Industrial Rescue, Confined Space, Scaffold User & Inspection, Tower-Climbing, Crane Fall Protection & Rescue, and many other areas. The team utilizes their expertise for installations, audits, and on-site consulting. Safety Connection, Inc. also assists in writing Fall Protection and Rescue procedures as part of Comprehensive Managed Fall Protection Programs for many companies. Clint started as a manufacturer's representative for one of the largest Fall Protection companies in the world. His territory spanned Louisiana, Mississippi, and western Tennessee. Clint works with OSHA and ANSI to improve standards for Fall Protection. Some of Safety Connection, Inc.'s current and on-going clients include Chevron Texaco, Shell, Conoco Phillips, Exxon Mobil, BP Amoco, BP Alternative Energy, ENSCO, BHP, Murphy Oil, NASA, the US Military, Bechtel, Crown Castle, the FAA, Alcoa, the Lower Colorado River Authority, and OSHA. Clint has gained knowledge by working with the end user to solve Fall Protection problems for offshore drilling rigs, production platforms, towers, utility companies, manufacturing facilities, petrochemical plants, scaffolding companies, residential and commercial construction companies, grain facilities, salt mines, railcar facilities, and many other sites. He is currently a member of the American Society of Safety Engineers, Gulf Coast Safety and Training Group, and the International Association of Drilling Contractors (IADC). Clint is also a voting member of the ANSI Z359 Fall Protection Committee. For more information about Safety Connection, Inc. visit <http://www.safetyconnection.com>.
